sincetting mind, so long as individual enterprise alone is calculated upon; and as a matter of course, if loft to much it will take centuries to accomplish what would be achieved in a few years.

The outlivation of the vine, the introduction of which on anything like an adequate soile, is an instance of this. A still better limitariation of its given by the outlivation of the sugar-cane can be grown in some parts of the colony te an enormous advantage, yet such are the conflicting and erromeously-discould instructs that it has never been prescicely attempted.

The great drawbacks are the want of capital on the part of the colorying portion of the population, and want of involving on the proposition of the population, and want of involving on the population, and want of involving on the population, and want of involving on the part of the colorying portion of the population, and want of involving on the part of the colory the supply their spare funds in the development of the resources of the colony.

To overcome these obstacles, the above association has been started.

The combination of capital, labour, and knowledge, is the best way of leading to the right direction.

Agricultural pursuits, however, in this colony, are carried on, in the majority of cases, in the most primitive manner; the establishment of an Agricultural College is therefore an absolute necessity, and as the professors will be men of undoubted sole nos and siril, a large finite of pulse can be arrepeted, not only from this colony, but also from the adjoint goolouies and other parts of the world.

The Agricultural College will form (in their procepts) the requisite labour, skill, and science, and at the same time by gradually extending its operations, provide employment for such labour, see well as estifug the example to the whole country of what is more beneficial to the community.

The Bhareholders will derive highly remunerative returns, and not only this colony, but the whole of Australesia cannot be otherwise than highly benefited by thi

CATTLE SHOW.

Denedin, October 6, 1834.

Fir.—Herewith we beg to hand you the programme and classification of Stock for the first Intercolonial SHOW of LIVE STOCK, to be held at Dunedin during the first week in January, 1836.

From the support our undertaking has already received, and the efficient manner in which all the arrangements will be carried out, we suitispate that it will be equal to any Show ever held in the colonia. And we have to request that you will favour us with particulars of any stock you may be desirous of forwarding, which will recolve our special care and attention.

Our agents at the various shipping ports are also anthrised to receive and arrange for freight on any stock to the stock.

intended for exhibition or our ANNUAL SALE of pure stock.

We also beg to remind you that we will hold our Aunual Sale of Stock by public auction on the last day of the 5how, when all exhibitors will have the opportunity of offering their stock to public competition.

As the sale will be held at a season whom most of our breeders and flockowners will be in the market, and a large stendance attracted by the New Zealand Exhibition and the Show of Stock, we think there will be a great demand for well-bree stock of every description; and we feel confident that any you may have for disposal will meet with a ready and satisfactory sale.

DEWARE OF COUNTERPRITS—HOLLOWAY'S DPILLS AND OINTMENT.—Copy of a lotter received from Meers GORDON and GOTCH, dated Melbourne, July 26th, 1864:

"Dran Sin.—We have found out that there has been a considerable trade doing in COUNTERPRITING YOUR PILLS AND COUNTERPRITING YOUR PILLS AND COUNTERPRITING YOUR PILLS That a man (whose hame we know made for a certain person a machine, rolling out One Hundred and Pilly Pills at once. That labels were printed, and dispatched up the country in great numbers, by one Beulton (we are informed). He failed about three weeks ago, and the mechine was offered to a friend of ours for asle, which we auspect is at work somewhere. What can we do for you in this matter: Something should be done at once. If we were sure yeu would approve of it, we would set the Detectives at work, and soon ferr

BEGULATE THE BOWRLS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS. We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in CONFIDENCE and TRUIH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicinate NEVER HAS IT FAILED, in a SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when I made used. Rever did we know an instance of disestisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and spick in terms of commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter if WHAT WE DO KNOW! after ten years' experience, and pledge our REPUTATION for the FULFILMENT of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is affinitelected.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILFUL NURSES in TROUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only releves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and howels, corrects sectify, and gives tone and chergy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieves. GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcomes convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the EEST and SUEEST TEERY and DIABEBCA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from testhing or from any other causes. We would say to avery mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing compliation—DO NOT LET YOUR PEEJUDICES, NOR THE PERJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between yea and your suffering child, and the relief that will be SUEE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SUER—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. THE BLECTORS OF WEST SYDNEY - GEN-

November 18th.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WEST SYDNEY.—Gentrices, the base of Government in the Legislative Assembly has imposed upon the Ministry the Constitutional alternative—either to resign that reflece, or to recommend a dissolution of Parlament—and, in view of the public interests, they have felt their duty to advise the laster course, which advice his Excellency the Governor has been pleased to accept, and an speed is now being made to the country to decide by whem, and upon what principles representative government is to be carried on.

In connection with this event, I would sap cistily call your attention to the unusual and unparlismentary character of the action taken by the members of the late Opposition. Affecting to consider the Government consurable for a recess of six mentals duration—and demanding, in the same breath, the production of measures prepared during the recess—they have, by the time, manner, and dramstances of their adverse vote, not Ministerial measures, and have deferred for an indefinite particular important explanations in reference to our financial position which the Government were prepared at once to make. Experadded to these evidences of a determined spirit of detruction, I would also refer to the refusal of the Opposition of great supply for the extremedies of the public service during the first three months of the eneming year—a course entirely at variance with constitutional practice, and tending to place the Government in a position of difficulty, by compelling them to expend the public money without the anthority of Parliament.

Under all these circumstances, and having regard to the fact that the Representative Okamber has shown itself incapable of control either by the present or by the late Ministry, my colleagues and myself have arrived at the conduct of the Amendy. Will result in public advantages more th

TO THE GENTLEMEN of the deputation who waited upon me this day, and the Electors of West Sydney.—Oen-lemmen,—I take this opportunity of thanking you for your kind and continued support during the past four years that I have had the honour to represent you in the Parliament of this colony—and I hope that the exertions I have made during that period to expose abuse and corruption wherever it has been found by me; my endeavours to promote cqual justice between must and mus; to promote the best interests of the city by supporting every measure calculated to ensure your advancement and prosperity; and my antions desire to develope the resources of the colony generally, have warranted me at your request in again placing myself in your hands, and in asking from you a continuate of that confidence you have inflarto reposed in me, and which I have endeavoured to deserve.

I have the honour to be your obedient servant,

TO THE BLECTORS OF THE WILLIAMS.

GENTIEMEN.—The present crists in the Paritamentary history of this colony mast command the careful consideration of the Constituencies to whom the Government has appealed, in consequence of the recent adverse vote in the Legislative Assembly.

I have been requested by many friends residing in the extensive and important Electorate of the Williams to come forward as a candidate for your suffrages at the ensuing election; and, in accordance with that request, I have the honour to present myself to you in that capacity, and to express my hope to be placed in the position of representing you is Parliament.

I will candidly state to you that 1 am a Free Trade; will candidly state to you that 1 am a Free Trade; but 1 am at the same time an extract advocate for the ENCOURAGEMERT OF COLONIAL INDUSTRY by those legitimate means which it is in the power of Parliament to afford; and to those means I shall, if elected by you, devote my best attention.

I perceive, by the latest official returns of the Registranticeners, that, in respect to the number of its mills, manufactories, and works, the electorate of the Williams takes a high stand amongst the country districts, for which I begt offer you my congratulations. The progress of our manufacturing industry is an inpursant subject, which should always commeed itself to the attention of Parliament.

should always commend itself to the attention of Paritament.

Having a large stake in your electorate (more especially in the district of Port Stephens), my interests are identified with your swin. Your local requirements, as regards im provements in road and water communications, will always be, with myself, matters of interest and inquity.

I propose, at the earliest moment to visit the electors at

JOHN BREB, Marrickylle,

Gentlemen.—In compliance with your desire that I should stand for West Sydney, I place my services at loud disposal, but I deeply regret that you should have ten compelled to go beyond the mercantile classes in Sydney, for an addition of the deeply regret that you should have ten compelled to go beyond the mercantile classes in Sydney for candidates in favour of Free Trade and e quitable taxation. I disapprove of all coaditions for electionsering suppress, and I seek no support except from those who approve of my positic life and political opinions. On the day of nomination I shall have the honour of addressing you, and, if returned, I will do my best to retain your conditions and a just distribution of the burthen of taxation.

TO THE MLECTORS OF THE GLEBS AND BALMAIN.—GENTLEMEN.—At the request of many influential members of my former constituency, conveyed to me in terms that I feel quite powerless adequately to acknowledge, beg once more to offer myself as a Candidate at the approaching election.

It has perhaps not been unknown to some among you that I had almost decided upon rediring from public life; but I must freely confess that this third invitation to become your representative at once arrested the inclination I had begun to entertain.

No man could be insensible of so great an honour as this unexpected requisition expressed, or remain untouched by the confidence on your part, Gentleman, in my poor abilities to serve you, would only be weakened, if not insulted by any formal announcement of my views: nor do I think that you will require at my hands on this occasion any more binding pledges than I afforded you, and which satisfied you on former occasions. The recent dissolution of Farliament does not appear to require a fresh statement of my views on public questions; but should any of my former constituents think otherwise, I shall shortly, I trust, be able to give them a satisfactory account of my former votes, and of my present opinions.

And should you again hours me with your choice, I will endeavour honcesty, and to the best of my abilities, to fulfil the duties, and discharge the obligations imposed upon me by that honourable trust.

In taking this step I beg to assure you that I am influenced by no feelings of political partiesanchip. The long and bitter condicts of parties in the Legislative Assembly, together with the financial difficulties of the Government, have, in my opinion, tended to impede the progress of all the loudurital interests of the colony; and it is to be earnestly desired that the result of the present appeal to the country will be the return of a Parliament constituted so as to ensure general condidence in its deliberations.

I. That no consideration shall induce me to interfere with manhood suffrage. I accept our institutions in good faith, and am determined, either as a public man or private citizen, to do my best to devalops them for the benefit of the country.

and am determined, either as a public man or private citizen, to do my best to devalops them for the honest of the country.

I am more then ever persuaded of the necessity of some great public effort to bring all our people under the influence of religion, and I cannot think an enterprise as grand in its results can be incompatible with the functions of Parliament. I am, therefore, favourable to the revival of the principle of Sir Bourte's Act, by which, under limitations, public amport abould be given to the clergy of all denominations in a proportion to private contributions.

3. I am desirous to extend the advantages of the conditional purchases of the public lands; and also to secure from the pasteral tenants of the colony a higher annual rental than has hitherto been obtained.

4. I believe our democratic institutions can never have a lair trial until they operate more in destall under some well-devised schemes of munkicipal government.

5. I will not consent to stand as a Ministerial candidate, but shall, if returned to Parliament, vote as I always have done, for going on with the business of the House, and testing our fixecutive Governments by their measures when they have had the fullest opportunity of piacing them before the country.

I know well how hard it is in the pursuit of politics to keep oncessed untainted by bitter and ungenerous feelings, but with God's help I trust to pass inhough the approaching contest, whatever may be its result, with a mind sober as disciplined to charity.

GENTLEMEN,—I accept your invitation to become a candidate for the representation of St. Leonards in the new Parliament, and I serve you I shall cheerfully contribute my influence in furthering your views as to what the Parliament of New South Wales should be. Many of you have known me for a long time, and are sware of the opinions I hold on most ef the topics interesting us just now; but as the electors is a large one, and there are doubtless many persons in it whom it would be difficult to bring together, I publish this address for their information. I purpose, however, meeting the electors at all the centres of population in the electorate, to afford them any information. In my power to give.

the electorate, to afford them any information in my power to give.

In the first place, then, I consider religious liberty to be quite as valuable and as important to be preserved, as civil likerty. Regishmen have long since denied the right of Church authorities to interfers with their temporal concerns and I for one am not going to concent to a change of masters—to give the temporal power any chance of interfering with spiritual matters.

I claim a right to worship God freely according to my councience; and I claim to be protected by the civil power in the exercise of that right. Included in that right is my right to bring up my obliders its my own belief; and I therefore dony that the State is estitled to establish a system of education that shall interfere with, or even put obstacles in the way of, my so training my children. Let this principle be forement in any plan of public education, and I am ready to settle all the rest in a business way, to meet the different circumstances in which the town and country are placed. I will add, that I am strongly of option that a timely instruction in Christian morality would have saved many of my countrymen from failing late these criminal practices that just new disgress them and us I think that prevention is better than ours—that the clergy, even in the contemnager notions of these days, are cheaper than police.

I cannot lay claim to be a political economist—I mean these criminal practices that just new disgrace them and us. I think that prevention is better than ours—that the clergy, even in the contermonger notions of these days, are cheaper than police.

I cancel lay claim to be a political economist—I meen that i am not LEARMED on the subject. I have examined, however, ameng other things the last budget of the English Casnoellor of the English chowever, ameng other things the last budget of the English Casnoellor of the English refiners of sugar to place a higher duty en manufactured than on raw ungar. I find, too, if the Cowper tariff and the Martin tariff be compared, that, although one is said to be protective, and the other "free-trade," they are identical in principle; and it seems to mehat the struggle between these two parties is principally for patronage and place—the business of the ocunity being, purhops, only a secondary consideration with tham. The Government manufacture gold cois, and construct railways, import immigrants, and do many other things that seem to be an interfarence with the natural operations of trade. My option is that, to meet the accumulating deliciencies of the revenue, the public income must be increased by new cantons duties on a (ex articles of general use and on incuries, and in such a way set to first the least obstruction possible to trade and connection of the rest of the revenue cannot be obtained, it would then advocate an income our agreements with the public oreditor must be kept last uc. I shall endeavour to afford every proper facility for the development of the rest of the community. To do that would be to review the old odicus system of monopolies. There should be no review the old odicus system of monopolies. There should be no review the old odicus system of monopolies. There should be no review the old odicus system of monopolies. There should be no review the old odicus system of monopolies. There should be no review the old odicus system of monopolies. There should be no review to do dicus system of monopolies. There

TO WILLIAM TUNKS, E-q. Sf. LEONARDS—

Fin.—We, the undersigned, electors of St. Leonards, prefer our request that you will become a canditale for the presentation of this electorate, in the new Parliament.

We know of your honesty and independence of character, said of your honesty and independence of character, said of your honesty and independence of character, and of your honesty will have so perform to enable you to devote your time to the welfare of your native land.

We trust, therefore, that you will sta time like the present, when the qualifies you possess are so urgently needed.

thry have proposed and the mode in which that have administered the affairs of the country, deserve condemnation.

One of the most obnoxious measures they have enforced is the imposition of the escont fee for the conveyance of gold, which is, practically, an increase of the duty on gold, a conrese which is opposed to the polloy sanctioned by Parliament. I regard the duty on gold as unjues, because it compels the miner to pay an enormously higher rent for the use of the public land than is paid by any other of the Crown tenants; and impolite, because it is a tax on industry, and on a class; therefore I shall feel bound to vote for its abolition, if I am homoured by your choice.

I am in favour of affording contributions from public funds to the support of Religion in the country districts. I am opposed to the Rewappers Tax. I must confess that I am agreeably disappointed in the results that have followed from the operation of the Land Sales Act, ten thousand families having availed themselves of its beneficial provisions. These persons have settled on the land, which must now be regarded as a valuable vested interest, I have, therefore, no healtation in pledging myself not to sanction any proposal calculated to impair the operation of the Pasitoral interest every guarantee of security on terms fair to the Crown as a Trustee of the Public Estate.

I am a Frestrader; and, should additional taxation be required to make the income equal the expanditure, after the most rigid economy has been exercised, I will not consent to such imposes as will increase the prices of the necessaries of life and impair the commore of the country.

I shall do myself the honour of vicing your electores of the tenants.

To the 223 BLECTORS of WINDSOR and BIGH-MOND, signing the above Requisitions.

Gentlemen.—It had not been my intention again to offer myself as a candidate for the representation is Parliament of the Biectorals of Windsor, but the receipt of your most respectably and numerously signad requisition induces me to forego my private inclinations and to place my services for the third time at your disposal.

Having already souccessfully contested two elections, and served you in the Assembly for nearly five years, you must necessarily be well acquainted with my opinions agon the leading topics of political interest which agitate the public mind. I therefore deem it unnecessary here to enter into any expesition of my political sentiments. It is my latestical to actives the Electors in Windsor and Bichmond publicly, before the day of Nomination, when I will be prepared to enter into a full caplanation of my past political carriers, and give you some indication of my fature course of action. All I desire is good government, the welfare of the country at large, and, in particular, a due regard for the interests of this district. And you may rely upon my treading in the same fear-se and independent path which hitherts I have end aveured to pursue.

With many thanks for your flattering expressions of confidence,

Windsor, November 15th.

BIDGER.—GENTLEMEN,—An unseemly saxiety for place and pay on the part of those whe compact the late Government, which showed itself at the very opening of the late severen of Parliament, has led to the happy result of an appeal to the people. The issue, and I think the role can, ralsed by the dromantanese presenting the dissolution of the Assembly is, whether the peountary exigencies of a few individuals, whetever their merite may be, are a sufficient reason for the suspension of public business, and for the delay in the consideration of thore measures which at the present inducture are as necessary for the walfars and credit of the country.

My vote was recorded sgainest such delay, and in favour of the present Government, because I beliaved that the members of it were better fitted to receus the country from its financial difficulties than the late Government, who were the cause of them.

In offering myself as your representative in the next Parliament, I give you an opportunity of examping with your approval the course which I have taken on this and former eccasions, and this appeal I make to you, certain that you will do me the justice to believe that, throughout the whole of my political career. I have been actuated by one motive only, namely, the good of the country.

I have now for so many years had the honour of representing you in Parliament, that my views upon uncet matters of public interest must be pretty well known to you. I faired, however, to visit the district before the day of nomination, and to afford those who may wish it, an opportunity of accertaining mere specifically my opinions upon the very imporation questions now pending.

I have the honour to be disent servant.

TO THE PEOPLE OF NEW SOUTH WALES.—
FRUNDS AND PELLOW-CITIZENS,—It is admitted on all sides that the public affairs of the colony are in a very unsettled and unsatisfactory state. And it appears to me, that every one who feels an interest, as I do, in the welfars of his fellow-citizens, should offer such suggestions as he may think calculated to help, even in a remote degree, towards reatoring public confidence, and to guide the people in the choice of fit persona to represent their wants, and support their views, in the Legislative Assembly.

degree, towards restoring public confidence, and to guide the people in the choice of fit persons to represent their wants, and support their views, in the Legislative Assembly.

Eince my arrival in Sydney, upwards of thirty-two years ago, I have taken a part in all the public measures that I thought conductive to the moral and social well-being of the community; such as the suppression of drankenness and the promotion of temperance; the occasion of transportation, the introduction of immigrants, and the cetaportation, the introduction of immigrants, and the consolishment of accasifutional for account and the commenced the political ratio of this flucthave the "two-third clause" of that noble Ast repealed, and then commenced the political ratio of this fluccountry. The injudicious and defective clauses of the "Electoral Act" help to lower and paralyse sound legislation in our House of Assembly.

Being now fast approaching the eve of threescors and ten years, I may not live to see another general election, hence I wish to offer, in all slucerity, a few remarks that may be of seme service in directing the great body of electors how to choose proper representatives at the approaching election. For much will depend on the character and competency of the members re-urased to the new Parliament towards its retrieving the damaged reputation of the Assembly, and towards respectating the finances of the country.

We have not unfortunately a sufficient number of indeof the Assembly, and nowards respectating the minances of the country.

We have not unfortunately a sufficient number of independent gentlanes of good education and sound states manific views, together with sufficient time and means at their diprosent to undertake the formation of a wise and their diprosent to undertake the formation of a wise and their diprosent to make the manification of the State in diameters may be forced to retire from a factions Opposition, or from incapacity to direct the helm of the State in diameters times. It then behaves the electors to do the best they can under the present difficulties of the public service to remedy these defects, and I have taken the liberty to advise the electors not to promise or vote for any candidate until they have first ascertained his fitness for a seat in the Legislative assembly; that he is a man of unbisinfabet moral character, who has received a fair chare of education; being a man of integrity and independence, and possessed of anticlent means for his support while in Parliances, take the support while in Parliances, taposed to every shade of course of the support while the parliances, taposed to every shade of the support of the support while the potential public questions of the acts a post of the support with the desirate his mirror of the support with public questions of the acts of where we me important public questions of the acts of where we me important public questions of the acts of the support of the colory which are now in a more lawless and deportable state of immorality than during the most degraded period of our pean I history. And, in my opinion, nothing can atop this spread of inliquity throughout the country, but the moral and religious education of the rising generation in the faith of their fathers, and the introduction of a colory who were also decided from the prophe at large in all those parts of the colory when clerical instruction is so acidy wasted and so sidical found. I can been positive sentiments to the people at large i

R. DRANSPIELO.

ELECTION FOR WEST SYDNEY.—TO JOHN ROBERTRON, Eq.—Sir, believing it to be of great and overwhelming importance at this crisic in the affidire of the colony that the calumnies cast on our public oredit should be denounced, and their unterer defeated, and further believing that our great and liberal institutions, especially the vital principle of Free Selection of land, are so imminently in danger as to require the most powerful influences to retain and defend them—we, the undersigned, having entire faith in your tried ability and character, and knowing that you possess the confidence of the country generally, beg you to allow us to place you in nomination at the forthcoming election for Sydney West, and plage curselves to use our best exertions to secure your triumpant return.

To W. Church, Esq., and the other Gentlemen signing the requisition.

Gentlemen.—Up to the evening, I had heped—as now appears in valn—that some gentlemen connected with our commercial interests would, by offering his errors, relieved nee from the responsibility of becoming a candidate for your electors.

ne from the responsibility of becoming a candidate for your electorate.

My view of the present state of public affairs are knewn to you, through my address to the electors of shoalhaven, already published in the Sydney newspapers. The near approach of the election renders it improbable that any committee will be formed in my interest. I will, however, he happy to meet and address you, at such places as may seem most convenient to you; and as my efforts have over been exerted for the scolal, political, and material advancement of the people, without reference to country or cread, I hope I may rely, that practically every elector approving of my general course as a public man, will permit me to can select him a member of my committee.

DOBERTSON, FOR WEST SYDNEY.—Mr. JOHN L ROBERTSON will be at his Rooma, Post Office Hotel, York-street, between the hours of 3 and 6 p.m. daily for the purpose of consulting such of the Electors of Sydney West as may be desirous of aiding in his return for that electorate.

Balmain Electora.—Mr. Smart has been weighed in the belance and found unnistably wanting. Why did fir. Smart not manfully meintain the statement he made in the Assembly, that there was a drifted of £400,000? Why did he sllow himself to be made a tool of in the hands of Mr. Cowper, and, at the bidding of that artful dodger, attempt to say there was no defloit, centrary to his own convictions? Why did Mr. Smart introduce a tariff embodying ad valorem duties, and then turn round and oppose Mr. Reger's tariff because it contained those duties?

Electors, do your duty, and break up the Cowper clique.

Thalmain Electora.—Wanted, a smarter

SANDS' SYDNEY and SUBURBAN DIRROTORY for 1865—The publisher, baving recolved on again issuing this wark, which will be presented to the public early in January next, respectfully requests that headof Government departments, public companies, and merosatic cetablishments will render all necessary information to the compiler in order to insure accuracy and make it a reliable source of information.

As a publication of this kind requires the experience of years' to bring it to comparative perfection, the public may be assured that the forthcoming work will possess may sevantages over its predecessors, and will contain fuller information than that of last year, together with an almeance—in fact, all that will tend to make it a useful work of general reference.

almane—in fact, all that will tend to make it a useful work of general reference.

A limited number of advertisements will be received, and as the "Sydney and Saburban Directory for 1865" will, like its predecessors, be found in the commercial institutions and public liberaties of Great Britain, America, the coloules, &c., as well as on board the atsamboats, at the bottle, along the overland return-to all of which places cylins are presented—the publisher can recommend it as one of the best midlums for advertising.

The difficulties empatienced in the completion of the Ludy Eowen having been overcome, tended materially to hasten the finishing of the Ludy Young, Pittypus, and Emm; and advices from Linggow, under date the 20th June, state that the Ludy Young left Greenock on the 15th of that month, and by the same oppointuity it was announced that the Pistypus, with the Emm, as cargo, would be dispatched about the end of the same month. The Board, having previously reported that contracts had been made for the construction of a wharf and the erection of stores, have to state that both are not easily ready for the and occupation of the construction of a wharf and the erection of stores, have to state that both are not easily ready for the and occupation of the construction of a wharf and the erection of the propietors to the fact that, with the exception of two months' services rendered by the Ludy Bowen after her arrival, the extrainge of the Queensland were all that could be made available for meeting an expenditure necessarily heavy, increased considerably by the preliminary arrangements for procuring so many additional steamers; but when the whole fleet, which will consist of five in number, are in motion, with a continuous of the support hitherto received, the directors have reason to hope that come enumeration for the capital invested may be looked for at no distant period

I his concluded the business of the general half-yearly meeting.

A special general meeting was then hold, in pursuance of advertise meet, for the jurpose of making an alteration in one of the clauses of the deed of settlement.

The Chairman, after resoling the advertisement convening the meeting, bridly referred to the borrowing powers of the director, and said that, in consequence of the increased price of iron, and the rates of labour, the cost for constructing the new steamers had exceeded the estimated amounts; and he entered at length into the reasons for asking on the part of the directors for additional power to borrow.

Mr. Aleander Raff moved, and Dr. Hobbs seconded, the following resolution:—"That the 67th clause of the deed of estiment be altered by the claim of the words 'one-third' as occurring in the fourth line of the printed copy of the taild deed of settlement, published in 1863, and the insertion in the place hereof of the words 'two-thirds'."

After a few observations from Measure. R. Cribb and C. W. Blaken y, the motion was put and passed unanimously.

This terminated the business of the meeting, and a feeding.

This terminated the business of the meeting, and a feeling of satisfaction appeared to prevail at the position of the cumpany's affairs, considering the diagdvantages they had to contend with.

INTERCOLONIAL RIFLE MATCH.

(By One of Them.)

Tutherax, the 16th instant, was, as stated in my previous letter, a leisure day to the New South Welshmen, as the range on which they had been practising, and over which the Intercalonial Match was to be shot, was closed in order to effect certain aiterations, preparatory for the Fifth Meeting of the Victorian Rife Association for prize shooting. The men availed themselves of the holiday to make calls, visit the public institutions of the city-the Library, the Museum, the Houses of Farliament, &c.,—and to dilve round the suburbs.

QUEENSLAND.

We have Brisbane papers, per the City of Brisbane, steamer, to the 16th current.

The Guardian of Tuesday says:—Brisbane was yesterday virited by one of the most violent helistorms which has been witnessed in this district for some time past. On Sunday night there was a strongly marked and well defined halo round the moon, showing the prismatic colours very distinctly, and the weather-wise prophesied a storm in twenty-four hours. Bare enough, the prophesy was true on this occasion, whatever reliance there is to be placed in such phenomens as a general rule. Monday morning was fine and very warm, although a good stiff see but the same of the same

A well-attended valedictory tea meeting to the Rev. J. Tawa-cnd, who has left the colony for England, was given in the Pree Methodist Church on Wednesday evening.

AGALLION papers to the 19th instant are to hand.

Heaville investions or Russia.—In the logislative Assembly, on Friday, the 11th instant, Mr. Strang we logislative Assembly, on Friday, the 11th instant, Mr. Strang we lock the Autorney-General "whather the Government here received by the conditions of Bussia towards these colonies in the event of war breaking out between England and Russia!" He had heard it rumoured that the first intimation received by the Englan Government was obtained from this colony or Victoria. It was a matter of very deep interest to the whole of the colony, and he hoped the Government was obtained from this colony or Victoria. It was a matter of very deep interest to the whole of the colony, and he hoped the Government would supply all the information in this robsession. The Attorney-General said some months ago the Government of the colony of the colony. The Attorney-General said he was not at liberty to state more than he had said. Mr. Kingston inquired how long the Government had had this information in their possession, and why they had not taken steps for the better defence of the colony. The Attorney-General: The Government took what steps they thought necessary in the matter. He could give no further information on the subject. In reply to Mr. Bagot, he said he thought the Government for the received an address from the House, would not feel insued at the first of the colonies and the Logisland of the colonies and the covernment affecting international law or the like keep the correspondence quiet. Mr. Bagot as was not some the pulpose of making a motion on the subject. In reply to Mr. Bagot, he said he chought when the covernment affecting international law or the like keep the correspondence quiet. Mr. Bagot as was a mangend for the pulpose of making a motion on the subject. Mr. Of the said, as he was a member of the late Government, he count unication was received the thorney-General when the communication w stated that he could give no more information upon the subject. The Treasurer said it was recently, as it was not during into period that the hon, member was in office.

Forstourity Mail.—The S. A. Register of the 12th says :—The despatch which the Government have received on the subject of the Ocean Postal Service settles the question of a formignity mail as far as that colony is concerned. It states that the P. and O. Company cannot pessably allow their steamers to call at Kangaroo Island. Therefore, even if South Australia should contribute towards the additional subsidy which is now demanded, she would gain nothing in exchange. The branch steamer would sail have to go to and from King Goorge's Found with the snorthly nail, whilst as to the fortisignity mail, that would be taken on to Myberrier, and the Adriaba letters would have to find their way to the ections by chance. It is not likely, then, that the Carliador Helman of the colony by chance it is not likely, then, that the Carliador better would be taken on to Myberrier, and the Adriaba letters would have to find their way to the ections by chance. It is not likely, then, that the Carliador plants of more to the vote of Edg. See. which is unashably better of more to the vote of Edg. See. which are assigned by the P. and O. Company for not allowing their steamers to call at Kangaroo Island, we must point out that it is a serious misetate near on their part to the transaction which are assigned by the P. and O. Company for not allowing their steamers to call at Kangaroo Island that, the detention did not havive a granter daisy then fourteen and a bail was 115 miles, and the line which his one or two days in the delivery of the mails avoid be infliered on the other colonies. EIDPATH AT FAULT AGAIN.—The Perth Inquirer of 28 h September reports that the notorious Redpath, who for a largh of time has eajoyed a tickst-of-leave, has been ratured to the convict establishment for twelve months, in consequence of incoloneous to the Rev. Mr. Bostock; and he richly deserves the pendement. This fellow, who is constantly referred to it all idicatesions relative to the convict system in Western Australia, as having been treated with undue lenlancy, seems never to have fully appreciated his proper position, but has behaved in all respects as if he were a free man of unblembade character, without a past to deplore or a future to schieve. The case which resulted in his punishment was a very flagman one. Mr. Bostock had interested himself in the formation of the Working Hea? Association at Freemantle, of which society he was president, and it was in connexion with its affeirs that the circumstances areas which eventually led to the receipt, by the row, gentleman, of a highly insulting message from Redpath, who was one of the mambers. The resident magistries as Presemantic recommended that some notice should be taken of the meter, and his recommendation was backed by the Comprisier-General, the result being than the Governor ordered Redpath's return to the analysis and stablehoment for a year, as a hand-habour principle,

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1864.

It is of course to be expected at an election that candidates who are in opposition to others will give expression to disparaging opinions, and place their antagonists in the deepest shade. In election contests at home some license of this kind is allowed, but moderated by the personal clations and social code which embrace men of all parties likely to acquire a share in legislation or Government. When Lord DEBBY and Ear RUSSELL, for example, tilt in the House of Lords the keenness and cleverness of their animadversions are chastened alike by their habits of self-control and intercourse in private When Lord PALMERSTON and DISBARLI combat there is perhaps more freedom of attack and reply; but still they rarely forget or over-step the recognised line, or use language which will prevent them sitting the next hour at the same table and exchanging the confidences of gentlemen. When we go another stage—to the hustings of a county, we observe more viscour hustings of a county, we observe more vigour and vehemence, but the candidates respect their social station and rarely exchange other than the fair and recognised missiles of party warfare. It is when we come to remote provinces, pot-walloping constituencies, and candidates of the last class, that we find something to remind us of the sewer. In such places we not infrequently hear language which we may suppose set the model of much colonial debate and estab-lished a point of affinity between the political dregs of the United Kingdom and the elite of our So we have seen established the kindred ties of the whole human family. No man looking at the Caucasian in his finest development and a the Australian black in his lowest degradation could imagine that their blood could ever mingle. But a closer scrutiny would conduct by shades of hardly distinguishable gradation from the highest to the lowest. Unable to find a line of separation we admit that they are one.

We not long ago had the character of our public men freely delineated. They sat to each other, and their portraiture was sketched with a vigorous hand. They told the secrets of their private intercourse and stripped each of the veil which common modesty might have induced them to preserve, bad they not judged, perhaps correctly, the state of public opinion.
There are times and places when such revelations confer far more pleasure than pain-when gratitude is awakened by an exposure which, however, amuses rather than dis-gusts. Indeed, such imputations do not disquality for popular confidence, they rather give pledges of higher fitness, It is impossible to say what may be a passport to fame and honour. In some coun-tries it is fatness—in some insanity; and in some it is rage. It is, however, probable that the public hardly take such descriptions given by our public men as passports to fame as en-tirely true. They are regarded much as Dr. JOHNSON did the Thames boatmen and their fare, who, in his day, were accustomed, for mere pastime and sport, to vociferate while the passed each other every expression of contempt, defiance, and abuse, as a mere stimulus to fun. The Doctor himself, in a wild mood, joined in the exercise, and culling, from the treasures of his dictionary, the most emphatic words of insult and vituperation, beat the boat-men in their highest flight.

We must assume for the honour of human nature that no small part of public recrimina-tions are made in this spirit, and that when our candidates for representation or office call one another thieves, liars, false, beggarly, cowardly and brutal, they are only like the ancient boatmen of the Thames, trying the com-parative force of their wit, and the power of

The collisions of the present possessors of power and their competitors gave us some fine specimens of the compass of invention, and the vigour of speech possessed by our colonial statesmen. There is certainly no ordinary offence which was not either directly or indirectly imputed, and the conclusion might have been that whatever in the whole range of possible improbabilities could happen, it would not be possible for there gentlemen to meet as friends and co-operate together. Yet, if we except a very few who have shown some reserve on these points, and at the same time offered a fair example of gentlemanlike conduct in their treatment of others, we do not think it is at all unlikely that the parties most at variance will unite whenever their convenience will admit it.

They expect the world to forget that the Minister who was called a thief, accepted as his colleague his accuser, whom he had called a coward—that either would entrust the most accepted duties to those whom he vesterday desacred duties to those whom he yesterday desacred duties to those whom he yesterday de-clared contemptible for incapacity, and detest-able for corruption. If they condescend at all to explain the inconsistency, they will tell you they said these things in a passion, as a re-tort and as a vengeance, and that in reality the men whom they declared to be unfit for any but the society of criminals. are alike upright, intelligent, and useful. We should not be inclined to hold people to their angry speeches as the final conclusions of their judgment. Something must be allowed for the infirmity of temper, and for the exaggeration of language incident to all kinds of conflict and | main roads £130,591, and on minor roads competition. At the same time there certainly | £52,772. Whether this expenditure by the language incloses to all kinds of conflict and competition. At the same time there certainly must be some limits if any respect is to be paid to public men, or society preserved from demoralisation. It is not possible for such examples to be effered in what ought to be the most el vated rank without injuring every class, and diffusing smorg the people a reckless, slanderous, and truculer tepirit. There is something revolting in the facility of retraction, and the cool and casy style in which relations are revived at the bi ding of interests. It would be wiser far if the people who have to meet on the same arena, and who, perhaps, some day or other, may find it convenient to co-operate in the same Cabinet to think before hand how absurd and degreding their position when they have either to acknowledge their association disgraceful, or their former imputations an atrocious slander It is precisely in this position that our public men find themselves now. There might be a union of useful talents and experience t establish a Ministry and rescue this country establish a Ministry and rescue this country from its present deplorable position; but things are now at that pass where every sober-minded man looks upon the future with doubt, not to say dread, and finds in no party a union of policy or force of character to prevent the colony drifting further and further into debt, disorganisation, and confusion.

There is, however, another evil which is even more pernicious than the violent language of political life—namely the insecurity of that confidence which all men should repose in each other. If no one can treat without his free conversation being distorted and related to the public, there is an end of that understanding and compromise so often desirable. It is thus that the expression of a friendly desire, a hope, or project places a man in the power of one who may use treacherously the confidential commu nication—dislocated and coloured—to mortify and lower those who have uttered their mind with a manly but too unguarded freedom.

THE statistics of the Mint for 1863 show that the operations for the year consisted in the reception and reissue of 493,332 ounces of gold of the value of £1,908,526. Four-fifths of this gold was the produce of the colony, but the Mint has a more than local utility. It is a convenience to other colonies besides New South Wales, for some of the gold came from Victoria, and some from New Zealand, and some from Queensland. The value of the coin i-sued was £1,534,750. The gold issued as bullion was only valued at £342,212. This shews that by far the greater portion of the gold sent to the Mint is redemanded in the shape of coin, and that the demand for merely assayed bullion is small. This may be due partly to the fact that the charge for coinage and for assaying is the same, but perhaps mainly to the fact that the gold is shipped for India, and that it is more available there as coin than as bullion. The Mint revenue for the year was £23,602, of which £18,555 was due to the gold of the colony. In order to draw the g ld to the Mint, however, for the sake of making this profit, the gold was escorted to town for nothing, at a cost of several thousands a year to the Treasury. The expenditure on behalf of the Mint for the year was £12,684.

The amount of coin and bullion in the colony at the close of the year was not more than £1,024,049, of which £962,426 was coin in the several banks. The stock was low, however, at the close of the year, and was below the average and very considerably below the amount held in any previous year of the decade. The amount of paper money in circulation at the end of the year was £824,347, or rather less than the value of the coin held.

The Savings' Bank held at the close of the year not less than £768,309, of which £628,368 belonged to Sydney depositors, and the rest to rural depositors. There were altogether 15,254 cerositors. The bank allowed an interest of five per cent., and was in possession of a reserved fund of £66,000, together with a sum of £6515 at the credit of the profit at d loss account. With the exception of £51,500 which was invested in Queensland debentures, all the money was loaned in the colory. The mortgages yielded seven per cent., and the money lodged with the banks received an interest ranging from four to six per cent. The annual expense of managing the institution is not given

The railway returns for the year shew that the total receipts were only £132,686, while the working expenses were £96,570, giving a profit of only £36,116. This profit would represent an interest of five per cent. on a capital of about £720,000, but we have spent several millions, and the rate of return is therefore very low. More than half the railway receipts are due to passer ger traffic. This shews how small a hold the railways have as yet obtained over the goods traffic. In a country with a thin hiefly available for the carriage of produce.

The war expenditure of the colony for 1863 was only £40,237. Of this amount £10,190 only went towards the pay of the military, £12,003 was spent in connection with the Volunteer force, £1942 on the Naval Brigade, and £16,100 on defence works and ordnance stores. The British Government spent on our defence more than we did, viz, £46,554, of which £19,334 was on military, and £27,230 on navel account. With all due deference to the advocates for peace, it is not possible at present to abandon all outlay for self-defence. We have a large property to pro-tect. As we have already seen, there is always a balance of more than a million sterling in gold lying in the vaults of the banks and the Mint. There are also the vessels in harbour, and the city itself to be ransomed from destruction. The value of the ratable property in the city is over six millions. And, as the recent disclosure of intended Bussing reliev has informed us, we have non-Russian policy has informed us, we have pos-sible enemies who are quite ready to come and snatch at portable plunder. What we have is worth defending, to say nothing of our credit.

The municipal principle has not taken the hold of the country that it ought to have done. Exclusive of the city there were only thirty-one municipalities at the end of the year, and of these six were not in active operation. The emaining thirty-one included property valued at an annual return of £377,289. The municipal revenues amounted to £40,070, of which £17,600 was endowment from the Government. The area included within these municipalities is not given, but the extent of roads and streets is 582 miles. Only three fresh municipalitie is 582 miles. Only three fresh municipalities came into existence during the year. This slow progress shows either that the Act is very defective, or that the spirit of self-reliance is very deficient.

There are seven road trusts which had amongst them a revenue for the year of about £10,000, of which half came from tolls and half came from the Government. They had under their care 191 miles of road. The local expenditure on roads and streets is a trifle compared with the Government expen-diture. The Government spent in 1863 on the central Government goes as fer proportionally as a similar expenditure under local manage ment is a point we cannot decide by statistics.

We suspect that if the amount were given to district councils on condition of an equal amount being raised by local taxation, the internal communications would show a very n arked and rapid improvement.

Mortgages on real estate were registered during the year to the amount of £714,500, more han half the money being lent on city property. Morigages to the amount of £891,279 were dis-charged during the year. Landed property to the value of £1,104,832 changed hands during the year. These figures show that when the registered under Torrens' system the fees of transactions will bring in a respectable income The transactions for 1863 under the Real Pro perty Act represented an amount of property worth £439,278.

The mortgages registered on live stock amounted to £1,503,413, but mortgages to the value of £881,222 were discharged. Liens on wood amounted to £220,449. Only 72 persons borrowed on growing crops under the Lien on Crops Act, and the total amount of their debt was £6398.

CENTHAL POLICE COURT.—Great inconvenience has been for some time past experienced in the conduct of the business of the Central Police Court, from the monattendance of magistrates, and the evil appears to be rather increasing than otherwise; as for Instance, on Monday last Mr. Rosswas the only magistrate of the four appointed for the day, who gave his autendance, on Tuesday, Mr. Plancy along of the five Justices est down for beach duty on that day, took his sent; on Wedneday, Messers. Caldwell and Chapman attracted to the duty, three others being defaulters on the react for Thursday, were the names of five justices, of when Mr. Birrell was the only attendant; and yeater day, Mr. Raitray took part in the business for a short time, three others in glecting their duty altogether. On each of these days, the business was for a longer or shortest meant an stand atill, and but for the rationary, three others in glecting their duty altogether. On each of these days, in the business was for a longer or shortest meant an stand atill, and but for the rationary thereone. The business was for a longer or shortest meant an stand atill, and but for the rationary messes. Love, Fithery, Chapman, Ross, and Burrell—would have been at a complete look. It is much to be regretted that gentlemen in the commission are not more alive to the importance of the duty they have taken upon them: live a the ration of the day they have taken upon themsitive—the rater having been formed with appellar efformed to their carva fixers, to be supposed to complete a time of the day they have taken upon them: live the rate having been formed to upon the first hardon of the first and power to complete a standance of upon the first hardon as the south of the same and the same an

CENTRAL CUMBERLAND KLECTION —A numerous meetings.

CENTRAL CUMBERLAND ELECTION —A numerous meeting of the supporters of the Hon. J. Hay was held at three of cicek on Thursday, at Fayten's Motel, Parramatta, when the necessary arrangements were under to secure the return of Mr. Hay, and local committees appointed for the various districts of the six orats.

PARRAMATTA FLECTION.—Mr. Laokey addressed a numerous meeting last night at Atkins', Carriers' Arms lun, Church-sirest North. It was unanimously resolved at the close of the meeting to use every exertion to pixod Mr. Lackey at the head of the poil. The meeting reparated with three obsers for the candidate.—Measurs. Byttoe, and Farmell also addressed a meeting of their supporters at Fearly. Hotel, on the same evening, and a vote of approval was peeced.

Ferri. Hetel, on the same evening, and a vote of approval was passed.

Accident,—An accident happened yesterday afternoon to a seaman named Douglass Nunn, on board the ship William Cole. He was tarring its stays when he fall down and broke one of his legs.

THE WARTER—It has been blowing a strong gale from the southward, since midnight on the 17th, attended with a few parsing showers.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE—We learn from the Otago Dully News that a disestrous his occurred at Invercargid seriy on the morning of Manday, the 31st uttime, and resulted in the destruction of one of the finest ranges of buildings in Travesticst. The fames were first discovered about threes the mersing of M: aday, the 3tst ultime, and resulted in the cest nucleon of one of the finest ranges of buildings in Tay-street. The fames were first discovered about three o'clock, in a large wooden structure opposite the Presbyterian Church and belonging to Mr. T. M. Clerke. They there o extended to M'Ivor's bonded store, an uncocupied dwelling-house beyond, and Mr. Goodwillis's pruniess, and were not subdued until the whole line of buildings from Meerrs. Hach and Hay's, chemists and druggists, to the corter of Deveron street, and including many oxtuges and outbuildings lying behind, were levelled to the groan'. The total damage is estimated at £5300, of which £4500 is covered by instructor. The offices that will suffer are the Lordon and Liverpool, Victoria, Royal, New Zealand, Northern, Otago, North British, and imperial.

SERIOUS CHAROES.—Mr. Thompson, an attracy, was during the week, at Echnon, committed for trial on a charge of criminally assembling a married woman amend Annes Burnes. PHERY AND ANOTHER V. HOSKING AND ANOTHER.

This was an action for slander, the plaintife being John Perry and Georgiana his wife, and the defendants John Hosking and Martha Foxlows his wife. The slander declared upon was included in certain words used by Mrs. Hosking in speaking to one William Keall Byron, charging him with having had adulterous intercourse with the female plaintiff. The defendants pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Shomons appeared for the plaintiffs, and Mr. Isasos for the defendants.

The plaintiff was in the employment of Mr. Hosking as coachman, and lived with his wife in apartments over the etables. Mrs. Perry was a woman of more than fitty years of age. William Kaall Byron, a youth of eighteen or nineteen, was a stable boy in the same employment. One day, when Perry was out with the carriage, and Mrs. Perry as apartment, when Mrs. Hosking onlied for him. Seeing him descend from the loft, she tild him passionately that he ought to be ashamed of himself to be constantly with that "old beast" up stairs. She then in the words dealered upon charged him with having had orininal intercourse with Mrs. Ferry. She subsequently rejected the same accusation to Mrs. Perry's lace, in Bjron's presence. Both Mrs. Perry and Byron were presented in the br. and positively denied that any illioit interest were called for the defence, but were the words complained of were used on an occasion when the plaintiff were not likely to be injured, the adendants were estilled to the vardict.

RILEY V. FARRELLY.

Plaintiff claimed £79, which he deposed to having lent the defendant one evening in defendant's house, on the 31st July, 1862. They had been playing cards together, and the greater part of the amount had been won from defendant. Just as plaintiff was about to leave te go home, defendant saked him to lend him what money he (plaintiff) bould spare, promising to return it in a few days, when he got the amount of a judgment he had obtained against one Butler. As the parties were connected by the marriage of their children, plaintiff lent him three £20 notes, three £5 notes, and four £1 notes, making £79 in all. Defendant several times promised to pay, but subsequently, on a quarrel occurring between them, told him to go to the Court and get it if he could. The defendant, on the other hand, swore positively that nothing of the kind had ever occurred between them; that he had never borrowed the money, and, of course had never promised to pay; and that he had never at any time lest more

The Late american news.

To the Editor of the Herald.

Six,—The intelligence from America received by this month's mail is, without question, in refavourable to the Federal cause than any which has reached us since that of the events in July, 1863, when the battle of Gestyaburg was successfully fought, and Vicksburg and Port Hudson were captured. The evacuation of Atlanta by Hod, after his six weeks' struggle to retain it, and its occupation by Sherman a sfer his 120 days' campaign to obtain it, apparently will have administered a greater blow to the Confederacy than could be ascribed to their loss of Vicksburg. The military credit which redounds to General Sherman and to his stedfast army is of a much more uniform somplexion than that which can be attributed to any Pederal campaign hitherto. Indeed, when it is considered how Sherman advanced from Chattsmooga from the 4th May, and has had a highly trained (though numerically weaker) enemy, under intelligent commanders, to oppose him, this last achievement of Sherman appears far to transcend whithere of the format had the most efficacious co-operation of a powerful fleet; and was opposed but by nearly half his own number in men, and by a very incompetent leader, Pemberton.

Whilst thus according an unqualified tribute of praise to the military capacity of General Sherman, he appears, nevertheless, to have placed himself in the eat gory of ruthless commanders by his expulsion from Atlanta of those unwilling to take the Federal onth of allegiance. At first sight it would seem to debase his military character to the level of Bu ler or Milroy; and it is, in all probability, a political bunder, as thereby threavening "Sword or Koran" to all Georgia. But then his isolated position, and the circumstances and exigencies of his ill-paid army, may require it. That his character is of a distinctive nature is apparent from his having given the cold shoulder to the Federal Substitute Agents, who were for following in his wake and trading in negroes for their production as No civy may note out as Charleston has, will prevent it being a port of ingress and egress for lockader numbers as heretofore, and consequently be another positive less to the Confederates.

Let us now turn to the blood-soiled State of Virginia.

There, at least, Grant has atumbled into no success equivalent to or approaching the good fortune of General Mends at Gettysburg. True it is that the latest (Surz) relegram of last month's mail is verified as to Grant's getting a hold on the Weldon Resilway. Nevertheless, an examination in detail of the fighting to the north of the James River, on the 15th August and following days, and of that on the Weldon Koad, between the 19th and the 25th, will show the military ascendency of Lee's troops, in facing Grant's masser, was as plapable in that nonth as in May, June, and July. For instance, when the 5th corps diet struck the Weldon Railway, they found none to oppose them, and scattered themselves to accelerate the work of deatuction. But between two and four in the afternoon, General A. P. Hill came upon them with two divisions of three brigades each, and captured and destroyed upwards of 350.9 Federal, and withdraw comparatively searhless. Now, a Federal corps has usually three divisions of four brigades each, and those with Grant, when he crossed the Rapidan, were rated at about 33,000 fighting men each, except the Reserve Corps under Burnside, which was alleged to have been 40,000 strong. Can the corps haver enliy dwindled down to half? and even them the full normal strength of any Confederate brigades would fall short of that half. Well may the Northern pypers complain that there must have been some mismanagement "somewhere" when twenty-seven hundred Federals were gobbled up in a few minutes! Yet something similar had cocurred in the Wilderness, and almost identically so near by F. rt Darling on the 16th May, and before Petersburg also on the 22nd of June. Nor is it in any wise surprising that earnest men, fighting pro sais et focis, should, under capable command, achi

The news from England by the mail of a decline in Australian securities has tended to depress the market, and induced sellers to come forward. Bank shares, however, are an excep-tion, and continue in favour. Bank of New South Wales and Commercial Bank shares are steady at quotations. Australian Joint Stock B.nk and City Bank shares are inquired for, and have an upward tendency.
Steam shares have changed hands to a small amount, but prices are unaltered. General Assurance shares are not so firm, and have declined 5s. per share. United Fire and Marine Insurance shares are very firm, and likely to advance. Pacific Fire and Marine Insurance shares are inquired for, but there are hardly so film, and have returned to the old quotation of £13 per share. Peak Downs Cop-per Mine shares have been in better request, and small sales have been made at 5s. to 7s. 6d premium per share. The following are the rates at which soles have been made during the week:—Bank of New South Wales, £ 10 10s. and £40 per share, Commercial Bank, 250 per share; Australian Joint Stock Bank, 213 10s. per share; City Bank, 210 10s. per share; Australasian Steam Navigation Company, 219 per share; Clarence and Richmond Steam Navigation Company, £8 per share. sample was of somewhat inferior quality compared with what we have been in the habit of receiving, which may be accounted for from the fact that no less than 80.000 quintals of superior fact that no less than 80,000 quintals of superior leaf was destroyed by the fire at Manila some months since. The only vessel coming on is the St. George with 110 cases cigars, bound to Melbourne. The scarcity and high price of Manila cigars have brought most heterogeneous samples into an ephemeral consumption in our metropelis.

Our usual report of the markets, as well as the commercial circulars, we defer giving until the Summary, which will appear on Monday. In our report of Mr. W. Dean's sale of sugars and teas in Friday's paper the quotation-6d. to £8 5s. per chest, and the sugars from £25 15s. to £36 10s. 10d. per ton. A small lot of white crystals brought £42 per ton.

Mr. W. Dean sold to-day, by auction, 41 cases of cigars, slightly damaged, at 68s. 6d. to 74s., in bond; much damaged, 61s. 6d., bond; Southern teas, 13id. to 23id. per lb.

Messrs. Mort and Co. sold to day, by auction, 52 casks of tallow, at the following prices:—Mixed, 27s. to 31s. 6d.; mutton, £32 15s. per ton. Hides: About 440 were sold at 5s. 61. to 14s. 9d. each.

Mr. O. B Ebsworth sold to-day, by auction.

16 casks of tallow, at 29s. 10id. per cwt., and

63 hides at 11s. each.

Mesers. Durham and Irwin sold, to-day, by auction, 65 casks tallow, at the following prices Beef, 28s. 3d. to 31s. per cwt; mutton, 32s. to 32s. 6d. per cwt. Hides: About 1948 were disposed of at from 9s. 9d. to 14s. 9d. each. One large lot of 1000 heavy hides brought 14s. 9d. each. Calfskins, 1s. 4d. each.

Mr. James Graham sold, to day, by auction 29 casks tallow at from £29 10s. to £32 per ton. Also, 292 hides at 9s. 6d. to 13s. each, and calfakins 3s. each.

To the Editor of the Hereid,

Fin,—In attending Mr. Engar's meeting at the Masonic Hall last night, I was mush autonished to see the incongruous mob there assumbled. What I wash to befor to more particularly is the accupying the gallery. Surely there can be no object to be served in admitting auton an unruly mob. I observed from the position I occupied, that these juvenless were, generally speaking, the cause of any row, or noise, last night. Osuld not a couple of policemen be stationed at the doors, and excitede the ragged justice altographs. In fact I really do think that there is not the same activity displayed by our policemen that we usually find in the hed-quarants. When our worthy Isapector-General knows such meetings are to take place he ought to send a draft—any of a doren or so—of his men, to be stationed in various parts of the house and at the doors, to keep out as far as possible all those who may be likely to create disorder, and to keep order amonget those who have been admitted. We should then not have such tabilitions as have been winnessed this week at the Temperance that the Masonic Baller.

C HARLES LAW RRN CE
C (Of the All England Eleven), 353, George-street, Sydney, in returning thanks to his numerous patrons for the liberal support afforded him during the past two years, bega leave to inform his friends and the public that, owing to the great increase in his ber and orioksting business, he finds himself unable to personally superintend the tobacco and cigar department, he has therefore determined to relinquish that branch of his business, in order that he may be enabled to devote the whole of his time and attention to the management of his Cricheting Depot.

His etock, being selected in London expressly for him by professional cricketure of the highest standing, will be found to combine every article used in the game of orders, of the best quality and at the very lowest remunerative priors. Having also secured the assistance of competent workmen, C. L. will be enabled to handle and repair bats, &c, in the best manner possible. By prompt attention to every order submitted to his care, Charles Lawrence confidently hopes to merit a fair share of the patronage of the Sydney, Suburban, and Country clube.

The Bar-supplied with every taing of the best quality—will be continued as hitherto.

The Subscription Billiard Boom will be in fature thrown open to the general public at the usual charge. The table by Burroughes and Watts of London, allowed by competent judges to be the BEST in the COLONY, will be attended by a civil and paintainting marker.

N.B.—The Club Room, provided with the Herald, Empire, Sydney Purch, Bell's Life in Sydney, Illustrated Sydney News, &c., &c., will be placed at the disposal of the various Cricket Clubs, to hold their meetings, &c., for which accommodation they will in future be expected to pay an annual subscription of 8 guiness.

Charles Lawrence will impart instruction in a marker, soil (the spitional game of Scotland), nurr and spell, the amierical game of scotland, nurr and spell, the amieri

Just as policeman "six," went on his beat
A fellow passed him with a joint of meat,
Twas late at night, and in his position
Policeman "six," was filled with strong suspic on;
Por seeing how quickly he had passed Policeman Six politely asked
What he had there, and just to show him.
By way of form sake, as he did not know him.
"Shew you, of course I will, policeman "six."
A stunning piece of best, old joily brioka."
"Then, may I sake you where you got it?"
"Then, may I sake you where you got it?"
"Why: yes, at Phil M Carroll's, there I hought it."
Policeman Six then looking at the beef
At once concluded he had caught a thief.
"How dare you say M Carroll sold you that,
A piece of stuff devoid of growth or fat.
Of him who rules the town in trade
I'll not hear such ascertion made Five shops he has now in the town
Which mone can reach for high resown,
For what you've said, you'll sately sup!
Come on with me, I'll 'look you up.
Then on they went, the fellow in this fix Called out "I'll tell the truth policeman six,
M 'Carroll never sold the beef.
I own your right I am a thief
For iate to night, while on my rambles."

The above magnificent pastoral property, CLAIRMONT is without exception one of the meet important cattle properties to the North. In addition to the vast scope of country comprised in the four large blocks composing the station, it possesses the advantage of securing an immense tract of land forming the Government Const Reserve, which borders the run for a considerable distance. The river Styx, which forms one of the boundarios, is navigable to the run, thereby putting the station in direct and so saving the immense item for land carriage, so fermidable to the economic working of nearly sil the Northern properties.

The country is of a very fattening obserators, and is estimated to carry 20,000 head of cattle in any essaon. It is ABUNDANTLY and PERMANENTLY watered by tumerous important orcels, which traverse the run from their source on the dividing range, separating the Broad Sound waters from the heads of the leases River, as well as by the navigable waters of the river Styz. Clairmont is on the post road from Blookhampton to Port Denison, and is also favourably situated as regards markets, having Reckhampton and the coast towns on the one side, and the township of Unrement, the PRAK DOWNE GOLD-FIELDS and COPPER MINES, withis a reasonable distance. A capital site for a public boiling-down establialment could be found on the river Styz, and there cannot fail to be shortly a splendid opening for a business of this kind, as an outlet for the surplus fat stock of this and the surrounding stations.

With this property will be sold

5000 HRAD OF CATTLE, more or less; a quiet wall-bred herd.

"." Nearly all the original stock were selected with great care from the noted hards of the BK cattle, at fit. Ruth Station, Darling Downs, and from the pick of Mr. Carden Collins' best own. There are a large number of first-class bulls, some by imported stock, and others from the choice herds of Clark Irving, Esq., on the Elchmond River.
